W. Wallace Murder Tale Discounted

Police Withdraw
Murder Charge
In Girl Slaying

CALGARY, Dec. 8.—(CP)—William Lee Wallace, 42, held in Calgary jail for 24 days on a charge of murdering Yvonne Levesque in an East Calgary auto camp Aug. 31, today was released from custody.

M. H. Staples, Crown Prosecutor, told the court the withdrawal was requested in view of the inconclusive nature of the evidence. He added that Wallace had been brought here from Detroit as a result of a statement he made which warranted the charge.

"The police frankly are not satisfied with the veracity of the statement," he said.

CONFESSED IN DETROIT

Wallace's appearance in court today was his fourth since he was released here Nov. 13 after Detroit police said he had confessed to the slaying of the 24-year-old waitress.

Yvonne Levesque was beaten to death four months ago in the cabin of Donald W. Henderson, 31, of Clive, Alta. Henderson still is sought by police on a charge of murdering the woman's former fiancée, Creck, Alta. girl.

Wallace, his wife and George Salisbury, now en route to his home in the Channel Islands, occupied a cabin in the Ingwood Arms Hotel, two doors away from Henderson's cabin, at the night of the slaying.

FLY TO CALGARY
Salisbury recently flew to Calgary from Yellowstone, N.W.T., and gave Calgary police a statement in which he absolved Wallace of any blame in the slaying.

Wallace was arrested by the FBI at Detroit, Oct. 30, as an immigration violator. While he was released on his wife's bond, he was given Detroit police information linking him with the Calgary slaying.

On Nov. 5, Wallace gave members of the Detroit homicide squad a statement in which he absolved Henderson, crown counsel, subsequently declined in Supreme Court here was "in full confession by the accused that he murdered Yvonne Levesque."

Wallace, a short time later, denied the confession and since his return here police have been unable to confirm the confession was a fabrication.

Rental Survey Is Underway

Survey of rental situation in Alberta is now being conducted by several government officials. Premier E. C. Manning said today. Finding of officials will be a basis for the details of new legislation planned by the provincial government to control the exploitation of rents by either landlord or tenants, Mr. Manning said.

Proposed legislation, to be brought before the February session of the legislature, will establish a court of appeal for both landlords and tenants.

WITHOUT POWER

The body will deal with rent charges where tenants and landlords cannot reach a mutually satisfactory agreement.

Mr. Manning said the board or court would operate in much the same manner as the Alberta Board of Arbitration Board. The board, established nearly 20 years ago, attempts to work out satisfactory agreements between landlords and tenants.

Blistering attack on land speculators in Edmonton was launched last night by city commissioner John Hodgson.

Quoting figures showing a 900 per cent profit in four years by one city resident, Commissioner Hodgson told city finance committee the "whole business is beyond all reason."

One owner of land, assessed at $200 an acre, said it was sold at $2,300 an acre, realizing a clear profit of $2,100 on the 40 acres, he said. The committee during discussion on the acquisition of the "water zone" 20 mill taxation.

Speculation of this type on city property is going on all the time, he said. He refused to divulge names of owners or location of such parcels of land.

EMPLOYEES BUYS
Speculators buy up land in outlying districts, wait a few years until the city's expansion makes the area desirable, and then sell out at a handsome profit—without having spent a dollar on improvements.

He told of one civic employee who was told of the bank and city years ago for $100 an acre.

Early this week he offered to sell it back to the city for $1,000 an acre.

Fluctuations In
Livestock Prices
Need Explanation

CALGARY, Dec. 8.—(CP)—Suggestion that Canadian Packinghouses be subjected to a full investigation was advanced last night by Hugh Allen, president of Alberta Livestock Co-operative Ltd., a livestock co-op of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, in convention here.

Expressing grave concern over "unexplained and erratic price variations," Mr. Allen called for action by provincial and federal governments to "get at the bottom of the price fluctuations."

SUGGEST MCGREGOR
He said the supply of hogs was down from last year and that feed prices were higher. Yet hog prices had dropped four cents. His suggestion that F. A. McGreggor, former federal minister of agriculture, be the man for the job drew a rair of approval from the audience.

Mr. Allen also dealt with the danger of surpluses in grain and animal products and warned that "drastic steps" would have to be taken. If nothing were done to take care of "surplus" supplies, a breakdown in the Canadian price structure would be an immediate result, he said.

Referring to a recent speech of Agriculture Minister Gardiner, Mr. Allen said Ottawa had apparently been "starred" by the announcement of an official effort to drive back the other Canadian food products from the British market.

"His high time they were started," he said, adding that the trend to buy-back Canadian farm products had been "evident" for two years.

St. Laurent Sees Need For 1950 Conference

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(BUP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent told the Commons today he has suggested that a Dominion-Provincial conference on general matters be held in the autumn of 1950.

The conference would discuss tax agreements between the federal government and certain provinces. According to these agreements a general conference was to be held at least a year before they expired on March 31, 1952.

Mr. St. Laurent stressed that the gathering would be entirely apolitical and would be on a constitutional basis proposed for next January.

TABLED TODAY
The conference was suggested in a letter to all provincial premiers which was tabled in the House of Commons today.

Beside the tax agreements, there were many other questions which needed discussion, Mr. St. Laurent said.

"I propose that a general conference be held in the autumn of 1950, possibly in September or October, to discuss general questions of common concern to all," he wrote.

He explained he felt an interval of several months was necessary for preparation of a fruitful discussion was to result from the meeting.

Man Missing Week Found Shot in Car

ALFRED J. DEER, 38—Body of Alfred J. Deer, shot through the head, was found at 6:30 p.m. yesterday on the Kewell farm, three miles east of the Calgary-Edmonton highway, near Blackfalds, 23 miles north of Red Deer.

He had been missing since last Thursday.

Discovery was made by John Makarov, CNR mailman from nearby Burnham. Foster's car was parked behind a hillside about 150 yards from the road leading to Burnham.

Makarov had passed the car, which was covered with snow, but went back to investigate. He immediately drove to Blackfalds and phoned RCMP at Red Deer.

SHOTGUN FOUND
Apparently the fatal shot had been fired shortly after Foster had left Red Deer last Thursday morning. The body was in the car, but one door was open and it appeared he might have been getting out. One uncharged shell was in the shotgun. It is believed an inquest is unlikely.

A machinery salesman, 42 years old, and former Edmonton hockey player, Foster had been the object of a search in which many, in addition to hundreds of children and school children, had taken part.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 8.—(CP)—The first New Brunswick legislature prorogued yesterday, ending a busy three-part session that began in mid-July.

That doesn't mean that the present year won't be used and valuable for years to come. It means the legislature will not meet again until the next session.

Another reason for the prorogation is that the present session of the legislature is unusually long. It is the longest session in the history of the province.

No connection is seen between the prorogation and the announced British decision to stop work on their pile.

Judge 'Scandalized' By Railway Board

Supreme Court Critical of Stand By 7 Provinces Against CPR

By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(CP)—Justices of the Supreme Court of Canada gave provincial governments a ruling yesterday as seven provinces battled a railway attempt to reopen a freight-rate decision of the board of transport commissioners.

A barrage of questioning from the bench—much of it critical of the board—was aimed at Justice L. McLean, K.C., provincial counsel, through the day as he completed the argument for seven provinces against the Canadian Pacific Railway appeal.

INJUSTICE IS DENIED

Two of the justices used the term "injustice" to describe the board's decision in one phase of the case. Another said he was "scandalized." After spending much of the day handling inquiries from the bench, McLean closed his case just before adjournment. CPR counsel C. F. H. Carson, who spent two of the three-day hearing on his main argument, will end the case with rebuttal evidence today. It is expected the five judges under Chief Justice Thibault will reserve decision to an appeal.

They have been asked by the CPR to rule that the board failed to do its job last September when it gave the railways an "interim" freight-rate increase of eight per cent after they had asked for 25 per cent.

The railway claimed the board was not justified in deferring a final judgment in the issue pending the outcome of the Royal Commission inquiry on transportation and until it had completed further rate studies of its own.

Mr. Carson argued that an "injustice" had been done by the board by the judgment, but Mr. McLean denied this.

CPR ALTERNATIVES

Mr. McLean, who is McLean, former a counsel but who was speaking for all seven provinces opposed to rate increases, said the board was not open to the railways despite the above judgment.

"They could ask the board to revise the decision upward. They could open a new rate case. They could appeal the cabinet. Or they could go back and increase the bulk of their rates, which would be the ceiling prescribed by the board."

Further, said Mr. McLean, the board had not stepped back from regarding the matter on its own initiative and if given the railways a bigger hint it will file this was warranted.

Sharpest conflict of the day developed over a section of the board judgment saying that, "before a final settlement is made, no evidence will be sought on the 'prospects' of the railway's labor costs."

A $750,000-a-year wage boost to employees in 1948 had been the main ground of the rail companies' demand while the board decision had been "most inappreciable" to the rail companies' demand while the board decision had been "most inappreciable" to the rail companies' demand.

Mr. McLean said there was public feeling that consideration of the company could be effected in train operation through more efficient use of labor.

JUDGES "SCANDALIZED"

Chief Justice Rinfret said he was "even more scandalized" than Justice Rand and Kellock at the idea that the railways should be told their wage increase now was to be scrutinized, possibly revised, when it had not been challenged in the hearings.

"It is more than incredible," he added. The chief justice asked if the effect of a court ruling deciding the board had fulfilled its duty would not be tantamount to telling the board it should not function until the royal commission reported.

Mr. McLean agreed that might be so. "What you are really arguing," Mr. Justice Rand suggested, "is

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(UPI)—A new, potential million-dollar industry was born in Canada today on the heels of a government announcement that the nation's first television programs would be unveiled in September, 1950. Construction of TV stations would get underway in both cities next spring.

He said television programs probably would reach all major Canadian cities by the end of 1950 and that license fees for receivers would be pegged at about $10. Conventional radio receiving licenses now cost $2.50.

"Every man has a right to his political views. I may dislike him but I will have no part in trying to drive a minority out of the organization."

DEBATE MEMBERSHIP

It was learned the board intends to seek a declaration against communism from the convention as a substitute for the resolution.

Most of the day was taken up to derive a minority out of the constitution.

A suggestion that membership be extended only to bona fide farmers and ranchers and farm women who derive 60 per cent of their income from farming was defeated after numerous amendments and substitute resolutions had been proposed.

Membership is open now to farmers and ranchers and farm women. The addition of farm women was the only change made.

Carried was a resolution that the FUA remain affiliated with the Alberta Federation of Agriculture until continue to strive for a national farmers' union.

Debate on the contentious matter of having municipal district council members pay tax bills was taken up at the morning session today with a number of speakers opposed on the grounds that it was not a proper way to organize.

Defending speakers urged it as being non-compulsory but a sound method of helping the union build up its membership.

The convention passed a board recommendation which called for the Alberta Federation of Agriculture to reaffirm its endorsement of the program for orderly marketing of poultry products on a national scale.

Several resolutions passed during the meeting will be introduced at the main convention. One asked that veterans on crown land be permitted to purchase this land after five years with the title held in trust pending expiry of veterans land act contracts. Another urged because of the high cost of construction, veterans be allowed to live outside of their holdings until they are able to build.

BRECHES BIBLE held by pretty Sedona Wickstrom is property of municipal airport Manager Capt. James Bell. Bible was printed in 1589 by 'Printer to the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty' and was found among things of Capt. Bell's father who died recently in England. It is called Breches Bible because of peculiar wording of Genesis III, 7: "They sewed fig leaves together and made themselves breeches."

AND IN BRIEF

Two Edmonton Men Honored

Two Edmonton doctors were honored at Toronto during the convocation of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

Game Bird Protection Is Asked

Provincial game officials today appealed to farmers to protect birds and valuable game animals when hunting coyotes in organized shoots.

E. S. Huettner, provincial game commissioner, said hunters should shoot only eagles and goshawks in addition to coyotes.

Mr. Huettner said hunters should not shoot any type of hawk, as they are great grey owls and valuable in combating predators. Small birds should not be shot, as these kill farm insect pests.

If rabbits are killed in coyote shoots, coyotes are thus deprived of their main source of food and will turn to killing farm stock and small animals.

Two Suspended As Car Drivers

Two motorists had their licenses suspended and were fined a total of $100 in city police court today after pleading guilty to charges of dangerous driving.

Taxi driver Henry Aussant, 310 W. Bales Blvd., was fined $50 and had his license suspended for four months.

Police told court Aussant was arrested last night after speeding at more than 50 miles per hour on 104 street.

Michael Kruk, 9048-103 avenue, appearing in RCMP court, pleaded guilty for four months by Magistrate J. McCulla.

School Reflects Sherbrooke Growth

Far cry from the one-roomed school founded 22 years ago is the new Sherbrooke school at 127 street and 122 avenue, opened last night before a crowd of 300 persons.

The building is a three-story structure, with five classrooms already crowded. The auditorium has a 30-foot stage, and will be used as a meeting place for Sherbrooke H.S.A. school plays and other activities. There is a separate gymnasium.

Classrooms are finished in pastel shades, with the modern green "backboards" to ease strain. Each room also has a drinking fountain and wash basin for convenience of the pupils.

Principal, J. N. McCulla, thanked the Edmonton school board and

CHRISTMAS THIEVING

Thieves are starting to store up for Christmas presents. A carter, as chronic was stolen from a parked truck yesterday.

Driver Steve Poirer, 1290-10 street, said the car was taken while the truck was parked in a downtown warehouse district.

Jail Term To Woman For Perjury

Jail term of two years less one day was given Sally Breland, 3012 avenue, in city court today when she pleaded guilty to a charge of perjury.

Court was told by Detective Alex Stevenson that Miss Breland testified on Sept. 27 at a preliminary hearing that Henry Hayes, an address not known, was one of a trio who had robbed a Chinese.

Consequently he was committed to supreme court on the charge.

Last week Miss Breland admitted in supreme court that she had given false evidence at the preliminary.

"When a witness deliberately lies for no reason whatsoever something serious has to be done," said Magistrate A. L. Miller after passing sentence.

Hunter Safe, Feet Frozen

Misled four days, Walter Smith, 25, of Grande Prairie, was found today 35 miles southeast of Grande Prairie, in heavily wooded, hilly country.

They said his feet were badly frozen as he was being taken to Grande Prairie hospital in an air ambulance.

He had been hunting for a week.

It marked the successful conclusion of three day-long searches in the area in little more than one week.

Another hunter and a provincial forestry department road crew were found in good condition in two searches last week.

15 Forced Out By Fire

Fire which broke out in the basement of the Rosedale grocery store at 2001, 10th street, today forced 15 persons from the two-story block of suites at 2:30 a.m. today.

Firemen got the blaze under control before it spread from basement ceiling and first floor suite.

Most of the tenants were back in their homes today.

Considerable water and smoke damage was caused to the store, the grocery operated by Cliff Robinson, 9705-10th street.

Damaged and soiled, owner, Joseph Weimantel, was slight.

Grants Restored To Some Schools

Schools most adversely affected by a recent 10 per cent cut in education grants will have these reductions partially or completely restored, Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education said today.

School divisions which will receive total restoration are: Albion, E.L.D., Bonnyville, High Prairie, Lac la Poudre, Fort Vermilion, and East Smoky.

Edson, Smoky Lake and St. Paul school divisions will receive partial restoration.

He predicted Red Deer would grow to be an important city because there is a tendency to decentralize industry.

Court Remands Two For Sentence

Jack Agar, Edmonton, in supreme court today pleaded guilty to retaining a cash register valued at more than $25 and was remanded one week for sentence by Mr. Justice C. Ford.

Also remanded for one week for sentence on charges of false pretences was George Bacon, Chassey, who pleaded guilty to retaining a cash register valued at more than $25 and was remanded one week for sentence by Mr. Justice C. Ford.

Reductions Made In Timber Dues

Department of lands and forests officials today announced reductions in timber dues, effective immediately.

General decrease in amounts payable to the government for timber taken from Alberta herds resulted from lower sale prices of timber officials said.

No Snow Banks Helps Bank Book

City Able to Cut Down On Removal Estimates

Winter's delayed arrival has saved the city engineer's department $32,500 on its snow removal account as compared to last year. Up to Nov. 30, 1948, it cost Edmonton $57,571 to clean snow and ice from streets, and do necessary sanding and hilling and intersections.

Since last January the total cost has been $25,000, according to a department official.

"Of course, if we men aren't moving snow, they are not clearing ditches and dirt off the streets, so they are kept busy in any event," he said.

One big snowbank can cost Edmonton from $10,000 to $15,000, he commented. In the last week of the season, five big snowbanks recently cost Winnipeg $40,000.

All snow removal last winter was looked after by the city's own equipment, without having to call on the contractor awarded the job of clearing away "abnormal accumulations."

For the year 1947, up to Nov. 30, it cost Edmonton $80,590 for snow and ice removal and sanding, and in 1948 the cost was $55,196.

Military Official To Visit Edmonton

Brig T. E. Spink of Ottawa, vice-admiral general, the Canadian Army, will visit Edmonton Dec. 12, a spokesman for western Canada said today.

Brig. Spink will confer with Maj. Gen. M. H. Pryke, CMC, who was in Winnipeg Dec. 11.

Few More Good Scots Alberta's Big Need?

What Alberta needs is two-thirds of all the Scots in Scotland, in the opinion of R. J. Dinning, Calgary, president of Burns and Company, who believes Alberta needs immigrants if the province is to develop industrially, and the Scots is the finest in the world.

"He is industrious, he is thrifty, and he can tighten his belt tighter than anyone else in times of adversity," he said.

Alberta is in a similar position to Texas in its industrial development, Mr. Dinning believes.

"Gas will probably not bring industry to Alberta in any marked degree until there is a sufficient population to provide a market," he said.

He pointed out that gas was available in Texas for many years but there was no marked expansion until when population grew.

Modern agricultural developments such as strip farming and irrigation have largely solved the problems of the dry southern area. Particularly important is the recent agreement between the provincial and dominion government to conserve moisture in the watershed on the eastern slope of the Rockies.

He predicted Red Deer would grow to be an important city because there is a tendency to decentralize industry.

Hockey Rink Season Opens

Five city hockey rinks will open today, and another seven will open tomorrow, Parks Superintendent Sandy Patterson reported.

Scheduled to open tomorrow are in Clarke Stadium, and those at McKim, Eastwood and Westwood.

Scheduled to open tomorrow are in McKim, Diamond Park, 119 street, Tipton, South Side Central, and Doman Park.

Over the years, the driving force of science has given us new forms of leisure time, but there has been no corresponding movement to develop social skills and new interests. In the future we will learn to use leisure time to improved advantage. Meanwhile there is real leisure. Problems such as youth delinquency stem from real and imaginary causes. Within the family we can do much to teach proper use of free time by cultivating a love of art, music, literature and other recreational interests. These will truly help make leisure profitable.

DRINKING NO EXCUSE

An excuse of being drunk while committing a theft didn't help Charles Labe, 38, of North Edmonton, who was given a nine-month jail term today in city court.

He pleaded guilty to theft on Nov. 28 from a hotel room of $50 in groceries, $20 in travellers' cheques, a dozen bottles of beer, a camera and a sweater.

Looking over a past record, Magistrate A. L. Miller said, "You're too familiar with crime to blame this occurrence on drunkenness."

FRIENDS HELP

Funds Donated After Garage Burned Down

RED DEER, Dec. 8.—Fred Lad's garage at North end of the traffic bridge was completely destroyed by fire yesterday. Neighbors and friends have started a fund to help cover the $5,000 loss on building and equipment. Insurance carried was $2,000.

No one was in the building when the fire started. One vehicle was moved out before the blaze engulfed the single story frame structure.

It is thought that the fire started from an explosion in the rear. Windows were blown out and oil cans popped during the fire. An iron safe of the fire was that a hydrant was being installed nearby and would have been completed within an hour.

Reward Posted, Muldoon Is Held

Ernest Muldoon, charged with theft and retaining stolen property, has been picked up by police at Powell River, B.C. It was reported in Edmonton today.

A bondman stood to lose the $5,000 he put up for Muldoon. The bail money will be spoken for in Supreme Court tomorrow.

Muldoon is being brought back to Edmonton by RCMP. His arrest followed the posting of a $500 reward for information leading to his arrest.

He had been charged with the theft last week of 120 sacks of cement from the Bear Oil Company.

28-Year Dream Is Reality As Jewelry Store Opens

One of Edmonton's veteran jewelry merchants and a master of the art of assembling delicate timepieces tomorrow realizes a dream which has taken 28 years to come true.

The smart new building, almost opposite the new Edmonton Bulletin, officially opens its doors Friday to a large number of customers built over the years by Victor Losa.

The building owned here by Mr. Losa is an impressive feature of the recent advances made in replacing ramshackle premises further and further eastward on Jasper avenue.

BUSINESS MOVING EAST
It is a foreteller of many progresses by experts that Losa's metropolitan business center is definitely moving in an easterly direction.

Fronted by gleaming black vitrolite the public eye is almost compelled to fix itself on the handsome front and to move upward in admiration of a cleverly modern marquee which casts down floodlight from inset lenses.

Inside, the appointments are as they should be for easy eye appeal both in clear-view jewelry cases and in the soothing simplicity of decorative finish.

WATER WASHED AIR
Washed air moves through the building interior giving a fresh, new atmosphere and thorough ventilation. Lighting, too, is unusual. Instead of a series of units the long impossible to get it was sometimes months before their watches could be completed."

STUDIED IN ITALY
Mr. Losa on many occasions has bent over the bench in the wee hours fashioning some vital part of a watch when it was impossible to get the proper part imported.

He did not "pick up" his profession. For four years he studied under the demands of exacting taskmasters in the famous horological school in Turin, Italy.

When he graduated he had a thorough knowledge of the work on parts of timepieces. He has also been an ardent student of gems, and his first choice was the diamond.

Mr. Losa's jewelry business is believed to be the only one in the city in which the building and business is owned by one person who is active in its management.

The building, all brick and concrete, is a dedication to the customers of an Edmonton businessman who re-invested what they gave him over the years.

Mr. Losa's confidence in Edmonton is shown in the building and business.

Three Learn Losa's Secret

Many tradesmen jealously guard secrets of their work. They fear that giving them out will rebound upon them.

The beautiful building which opens officially Friday speaks in action what cannot be put in words.

against them in competition. But not Victor Losa.

When Mr. Losa landed in Edmonton in 1921 from Italy he brought with him a master's knowledge of timepieces and gems.

"I want my men to do the best work possible," said Mr. Losa. Sharing his knowledge are three men who trained at Losa's behest.

They are jewelry store owner Ben Appelt of Morden, Man., Walter Valla, Nelson, B.C., and Marcel Chumard of New Westminster.

With Mr. Losa in the opening of his business Friday is 28-year-old Frank Davidson, a veteran of the Second World War.

Atom Head Lacked Faith in Wallace

Deliberately Withheld Secret Data From U.S. Vice-President

By W. R. Higginbotham

(Copyright 1948 by British United Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(BUP)—L. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, chief of the wartime A-bomb project, said today he deliberately withheld several secret reports on atomic development from former Vice-President Henry A. Wallace during the war.

He made the statement in an interview when asked to clarify his testimony before the House Un-American Activities committee concerning Russian attempts to spy out U.S. atomic secrets in 1943 and 1944.

Groves had testified that Wallace, who joined the Democratic party last year to run for president at the left-wing Progressive party's candidate, saw only one of about five secret atomic reports which were distributed among a limited group of the highest ranking officials. He did not elaborate.

Interviewed later at the Army-Navy Club, Groves was asked why the other reports were not shown to Wallace.

"Throughout my conduct of the Manhattan Project, my decisions were based on what I thought were the best interests of the United States," the general said. "I decided I wasn't going to show any more reports to Mr. Wallace."

Asked if that meant he decided it would be against the best interests of the country for Wallace to see the documents, Groves replied: "I don't see how anything could be more positive than what I said before."

Pressed for a more detailed explanation, he added: "Our objective in the Manhattan Project was to save American lives by shortening the war. Many security hazards were deliberately taken to accomplish this goal, but no unnecessary, recognizable hazards were ever taken."

Students Return After One-Day Protest Strike

ST. GEORGE, Ont., Dec. 8.—(CP)—Thirty-seven of the school children who walked out of classes Tuesday in protest against the dismissal of a teacher returned to school today.

The students submitted a petition to the school trustees asking "a reasonable explanation" of the dismissal of Richard Takimoto.

Thirty-year-old teacher of science, mathematics and commercial subjects at the continuation school in this Brant County village.

The students who returned said they were awaiting results of a ratemakers' meeting called to discuss the situation.

Peasant Stock Needed Here, Commerce President Says

WINNIPEG, Dec. 8.—(CP)—R. A. Bryce, of Toronto, president of Canadian Chamber of Commerce, believes the existence of this country as a growing power "depends in a large measure on our trade with other countries."

Canada is facing "very serious times," he said. The Manitoba Associated Chambers of Commerce last night. "We've got ourselves of agricultural and manufacturing products. Where are we going to sell all these goods?"

He suggested increased immigration as an answer but "not of the kind of immigration that is easy to assimilate," he said.

"Canadian generally do not care to enter the fields of mining and farming. We need peasant stock so that when we train them they stay with us."

New immigrants should be welcomed since an increasing population is a contributing factor to the "fullest possible development of our great natural resources and our high standards of living," he said.

Better representation for western Canada on the directors of the Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines was requested in two resolutions approved by the convention.

Present western representation on the CNR board is "not proportionate to the importance of its western business." In the case of Trans-Canada Air Lines, all directors are residents of Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

"The convention urged that at any future dominion-provincial conference greater attention be given to financial services and requirements of municipalities."

Senate OK's Comics Ban

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(CP)—A bill banning crime comics in Canada, passed unanimously by the commonsense early this week, ran into heavy opposition in the senate.

The bill received 10-0 voting yesterday without amendment after a 24-hour struggle in the senate.

The bill will become law with royal assent, expected later this week.

Senator Arthur Rook (Ontario) moved an amendment which would have removed the responsibility for crime magazines from distributors and news dealers. He would have confined the responsibility to printers and publishers of crime magazines.

Senator John T. Haig, opposition leader, said the amendment would take the teeth out of the bill. He said it would limit effect of the bill to Ontario, because all the comics were published in Toronto.

Film Board Is Red-Free House Told

By MEL SUPRIN
OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(CP)—Not one employee has been dismissed from the National Film Board for being a Communist, Reconstruction Minister Winters told Commons yesterday as operations of the film board were criticised by Progressive Conservatives and defended by the Liberals and CCF. Sixty-nine people have left the board, Mr. Winters replied, but none was asked to leave the board because they were Communists.

However, Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East) said he had information from private sources which indicated that between 40 and 45 employees had been found by the screening to be unfit to handle secret film work.

These, he said, were to be moved to other government departments. He objected to this, if true. If an employee could be trusted in one department, he couldn't be trusted anywhere else in the government service.

Mr. Winters said the investigation of film board employees is part of the program started last year under which government employees in positions of trust are screened to assure their trustworthiness.

Government policy was not to employ any member of the Communist party or anyone so related with it in the work of a secret character. This also applied to those associated with Fascist organizations.

Mr. Winters praised the work of the board and denied charges that it is seeking to create itself as a monopoly in the film industry of Canada.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said the work of the film board situation was a "farce". Defence Minister Clegg in his reply said the board was not being entrusted with secret work in the defence department. Yet the board allowed to go to Chicago, London, and make pictures of the highly-secret atomic plant. Mr. Clegg said the board was being investigated by another government department to go to United States to make films of atomic work there.

Aussie Election Bet Can Cost $123 Fine

By Antony Whitlock
SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 8.—(CP)—A $123.50 fine can be imposed on anyone convicted of betting on Australia's general election Saturday.

But it's not the threat of being fined that is restricting wagering. Never before have so few forecasts been made on an Australian election. All party supporters are agreed voting will be close.

Favoring the return of the Labor government under Prime Minister Ben Chifley are general popularity, high wages and full employment. No one used to be without a job in Australia today. Nearly 100,000 jobs are waiting to be filled. This labor takes credit and has been judged on its record, with few promises for the future.

The Liberal-Country party joint opposition is staking its chances on "it's time for a change," "throw out the Socialists" and "let's get back to the free enterprise that made Australia." Another vote-winning plank is its promise to end rationing by importing more non-dollar gasoline.

Public opinion polls say Labor may be beaten. But many persons thought labor would be beaten in the 1946 election after five years of difficult wartime administration. But Chifley brought his party back to power comfortably.

He claims the Liberals want to see an end to the present full employment so that there will be some "discipline in industry." The Liberals deny these charges.

Voting for the 125-member house of representatives will be by the usual Australian system of preference marking and for the 60-member senate by a complicated system of proportional representation.

POST-WAR JAPAN is tense background for Columbia's latest hit "Tokyo Joe." Starring Humphrey Bogart and Florence Marly, "Tokyo Joe" is story of an ex-GI who returns to Tokyo and finds action and adventure. "Tokyo Joe" starts Friday at Rialto theatre.

Bogart Plays Lead In Rialto's New Thriller

Turbulent life in post-war Tokyo forms a perfect background for Columbia's latest release "Tokyo Joe."

Returning to that western city after years of absence, Joe Barrett as portrayed by Humphrey Bogart, plans to resume operation of his night club.

Believing his wife, Trina, played by Florence Marly, was killed in a Japanese concentration camp, he is surprised to learn she is still living and has divorced him to marry an American lawyer.

Determined to take her away from her husband, Bogart becomes involved with Japanese mobsters, engaged in smuggling criminals back to Japan.

Documents proving his former wife had broadcast treason to American troops in order to save her child are revealed, and used as blackmail.

As "Tokyo Joe," Bogart plays the part of the GI, alternating between exciting romance and hard-killing action, combining tender embraces with deadly rough and tumble judo.

Show opens Friday at Edmonton's Rialto Theatre.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Meet the self-proclaimed-and-proud-of-it new Lana Turner. "I'm strictly the home girl now," she says. "You wouldn't know me."

The same goes for her husband Bob Topping. "We're very folksy," she told me in her studio dressing room. "Surprised? So are we."

And as will be all Hollywood. Time was, even in a dull night the hot spot photographers could almost always count on Lana Turner to put in an appearance. Now, she says, they haven't been to a night club since they dropped into a Sunset Strip spot after a premiere a couple of months ago. So what do they do?

STAY-AT-HOMES
"We just stay at home. Bob plays tennis and we both watch television. Every Saturday night I get the urge to go to a movie. But Bob says, 'You know the theatre are crowded on Saturday night; I'll take you any other night of the week.'"

"But all the other nights, I'm too busy watching television. So we just stay home."
Television is the Toppings' passion. They have five screens in their new home and a forest of aerials on their roof. Lana indicated one of the aerials is high enough to be a danger to aircraft.

THE HOME-BODY
Lana the home-body has amazed many people in her new role, including her studio publicity chief. She said she shook her hand one day and said, "Lana, I want you to know how proud I am of the fine way you and Bob have been conducting yourselves. I know it's hard for you."

"This may be hard to believe," she answered, "but I like it. 'This is the good life. And amazing enough, Bob likes it, too. You know, he's had his share of night life, too."
